Job Work Neatly Executed at this Office.

Messrs. Meek & Ferguson are rapidly setting the poles between this city and Lawrenceburg for the Williams telephone line, and expect to have the wire up and everything in working order by the last of next week.

A negro boy who has been in the employ of Mr. George Buhr, having learned the combination of the lock of the money safe in the bar-room, effected an entrance into the house last Sunday night, by taking a glass out of the door or window, and robbed the safe of thirty-eight dollars in cash. He also took several boxes of cigars, bottles of wine, etc. Officer Henry Brown was notified of the robbery, and on Tuesday night he and Officer Merchant arrested the burglar and carried him to Mr. Buhr, to whom he acknowledged the burglary and returned the stolen property, when he was released.

Coup's circus is one of the best that has been to this city for many years. The menagerie and museum are complete, and the performance unexceptionably fine. The big devil fish was surrounded all the time by a large crowd of curious spectators who viewed the huge thing with a feeling akin to horror. The Japanese circus was a novelty to this section, and elicited much admiration from all who saw it. Among the ring performances the wonderful leaping horses, trained ponies, and the Japanese juggling are worthy of especial mention. The show is worthy of the patronage of the most fastidious.

About twilight Wednesday evening this office was illuminated for a brief period by a vision of female loveliness, more beautiful than a golden sunset kissing an evening's farewell to the gypsies of the floral king. Don that ornaments the valleys of the Rhine. Arrayed in spotless white, this fairy-like being appeared to our nice young man and the "devil," who were the sole occupants of the office at the time, as an angel of light, showering on them a profusion of smiles and sweetness—smiles from a countenance beaming with cheerfulness and contentment, and sweetness from a tin box containing about five pounds of fine French candies. The boys were so taken aback at the sudden apparition that they were at a loss for suitable words of greeting, and were so bewildered by the dulcet tones of her musical voice that they stood in silent admiration and wonder, totally unable to give expression to their gratitude to her for the pleasure her visit gave them. When we came into the office, a few minutes after the departure of this lovely being, we found the boys standing in front of our desk gazing dreamily at the ceiling, as if they expected to see the vision ascending heavenward in a fleecy cloud of glory, but at the same time they were getting away with the candy that piece of femininity had left here with a relish that gave evidence of the fact that they were not unmindful of the good things of life.

Boys, how do you like pepper candy?

"The b'yes call me Tom, Dick, and Harry, and Souwe."

Mr. Geo. L. Payne has sold his residence in South Frankfort to Mrs. Ed. Crockett.

With a contested election case, a circus, and a dog and coon fight, Frankfort was quite lively yesterday.

James Bright, who was recently shot and wounded at Hardinsville, is so far recovered as to be able to walk about. The examining trial of Bently, who did a part of the shooting and all the wounding, is set for next Tuesday.

We understand that some pupils of the Kentucky Eclectic Institute are about to "launch a frail bark upon the unmerciful sea of journalism." It is to be a manuscript paper, and will glory in the name of K. E. I. News.

"The Eldridge Recitals."

J. Prescott Eldridge, of New York, known as "The American Recitationist," who has during the past ten years or more appeared before hundreds of audiences in the United States, will present his peculiar entertainment, known as "The Eldridge Recitals," or "An Evening with the Passions," "Psychological Seance," etc., at Major Hall, on Saturday evening, November 8th.

The programme he will offer will embrace dramatic imitations, character representations, classic recitals, etc., together with a portrayal of "The Passions," occupying the first hour of the evening, after which will be presented an hour of mirth, wit, and humor, entitled "Psychological Seance," and "The Mousonian Banquet," in which will be introduced a number of original novelties of an intensely humorous nature, thus in an evening's entertainment presenting so varied a programme of amusement as to invite smiles and tears from all, pleasing the most fastidious taste, the cultivated and refined, as well as the untutored mind. From a perusal of the programme designating the various features of the entertainment, as well as from noting the very strong endorsements Mr. Eldridge has received from eminent critics, as well as the press, we are satisfied that the entertainment will prove one of the most interesting and pleasing amusements of the season, and strongly recommend our readers not to allow it to pass by their attendance. Tickets for sale at Barrett's News Depot. Entertainment commences at 7:30.

The following extract is taken from a New York paper, and will show how time and distance is calculated to warp and exaggerate facts:

Alfred Bently, of Hardinsville, Ky., refused to pay the rent of the farm on which he lived, and declared that he would submit to no remonstrance about it. James Bright, the landlord, rode to the place to confer on the subject, and the tenant shot him on sight with a rifle, killing him.
